YOUR PERSONAL
'DEDICATED' MATCHMAKER

A personalized 'white glove' service

YOUR PERSONAL MATCHMAKER FOR A PERSONAL JOURNEY

At DanfeMonal.com, we understand that finding a life partner is not just about profiles and introductions – it is about trust, guidance, family alignment, and emotional readiness. In traditional Nepali society, this invaluable role was often played by a Lahmi – the family matchmaker – someone who knew you, understood your and your family needs, and gently guided the process.

Our Premium Service brings this tradition into the modern world.

Unlike our Standard Service, which is limited to introductions, Premium is a fully managed, white-glove experience. From your first conversation to meaningful connection, we will hand-hold you through every step with care, discretion, and priority support.

"At Danfemona.com, we believe there's someone out there for everyone, sometimes all it takes is a dash of confidence and a bold leap of faith.

Let us help you, one intro at a time!"

- Jeny & Jiwan (Co-Founders)

RELATIONSHIP COUNSELLING: WHY YOU MIGHT NEED IT!

In the age of digital matchmaking, finding a potential partner can feel exciting and intimidating. Unlike traditional introductions through family or friends which came with built-in trust, digital connections can raise questions: Can I trust this person? Are we really compatible? What if things don't turn out as expected?

This is where relationship counselling makes a real difference. It helps you understand your own expectations, manage the fear of the unknown, and approach new connections with confidence rather than anxiety. Counsellors guide you on how to build trust through honest conversations, healthy boundaries, and realistic timelines without rushing or overthinking.

With expert support, such uncertainty feels less overwhelming and more empowering, turning matches into meaningful, well-considered relationships and helping you move forward with clarity, self-awareness, and emotional readiness.

Our counsellors are experts in their fields and are ready to help you address all your doubts and concerns. Schedule a session with them today and take that next step with confidence!
